March Meeting -- March 14th

Welcome Back!!! We will have our first Lincoln Quilters Guild meeting for the year on March 14th @ 7 p.m. at the College View Church. PLEASE NOTE: The meeting will be held in the Fellowship Hall, NOT the usual location of Heartland Hall. The church will have signs to guide you to the room, regardless of which door you enter. The room is on the lower level, and the best entrance is Door 3 on the South side of the building. Door 2 is the usual door on the south that members enter. Door 3 is to the left (west) of that.

Looking forward to our speaker Robbi Eklow, who will be sharing her amazing quilts and explaining specifics on how she creates them from start to finish. Go to the programs page at www.LincolnQuiltersGuild.org for more information.

At the meeting, we will also have two raffle quilts available for you: Millie Fauquet's beautiful applique "Best in Show". This quilt will be available for tickets sales @ $2 for each meeting through June, when the winner will be drawn. A beautiful tangerine quilt will be offered for raffle by the Modern Quilt Guild –$2 raffle ticket – and be awarded later in March. The quilts will be available to see and a table for you to purchase raffle tickets at the meeting.

National Quilting Day - March 19th

Saturday, March 19th will be a busy and fun day at the International Quilt Museum at 33rd and Holdrege Streets. This is a free event for all ages including free museum admission, demonstrations, lectures, displays, and access to the current exhibitions. There are even projects for you to make and take home. Lectures are 10 a.m. through 2:30 p.m. Free parking. Ala carte lunch available.

Sheila Green is asking for volunteers to help during the day in roles such as greeters, helping with community activities, and others. Please check with Sheila at the March meeting, or contact her at: sheilagreen@windstream.net if you would like to volunteer. It will definitely be a fun and active day!

ISLES Sale - March 27th

An annual tradition for the Guild is the Isles Sale in Havelock (6232 Havelock Avenue, Lincoln). We will be holding this sale on Sunday, March 27th from 10 – 3 p.m. Fabric will be sold at the Isles Sales for $3 / pound. Other vendors / booths will also be present. Admission will be can/s of food for the food bank.

All of this means Spring Cleaning for you! Take a trip to your sewing room to find the fabric that you have been wanting to pass on. Ask your friends as well as we all need to clean our sewing rooms periodically. The Guild will be collecting your donated fabric at the meeting on March 14th. Drop your bags of fabric only inside Door #3 as you enter. Be sure to maintain a clear walkway. If you need to drop your fabric AFTER March 14th and before the sale, an address will be provided for drop off as we get closer to the date.

Volunteers are needed to help, especially with unloading and set-up @ 9 a.m., and then loading up what is left afterwards @ 3 p.m. We will have a sign-up list at the March meeting, along with informational bookmarks to share with your friends.

This is a fun event where we meet lots of quilters and others who are out shopping.

LQG Board

The Lincoln Quilters Guild Board met on February 7 to transition, onboard, and basically get to know each other. We are excited about the programs and other events during 2022 and appreciate the many actions that committees are already taking for the 2022 year. Many decisions still need to be made, but we are hopeful to have some announcements of those events at the March & April meeting.

Welcome Aboard: Deb Peck, Secretary; Kathy Junker, Treasurer-Elect; Sandra Wade & Maggie Copple, Programs-Elect.

Welcome Back: Nancy Anderson, President-Elect; Lisa Burham, Advisor; Christina Chapman, Treasurer; Lynn Willey & Patrice Steiner, VP Programs.
