Guild Meeting March 14, 2022

What a great thing to see everyone again as we start up the Quilt Guild year. I know the room was not ideal, but as quilters who like to 'piece things together' we were able to have a good time and good conversations. We will be back in our usual place on April 11th with lots of sunshine, I hope.

Our Guild meeting on Monday night was attended by 90 members. We had 5 guests – from Wilber, Crete, and a member of the Grand Island Guild. We welcomed new members to the Guild with a group meeting prior to meeting start. We have a total of 177 members.

Wasn't Robbi Ecklow just a fun speaker? I loved her quilts, so interested with her technique, amazed at her fabric dying, and her humor just struck a chord with me. Many of you asked about her Hot Shops in Omaha. Here is the link to their website <https://www.hotshopsartcenter.com/> located at 1301 Nicholas St., Omaha, NE 68102.

Speaker in April

Kathi Eubank will present "What a Judge Sees", which will be about judging quilts and include tips and techniques on how to make your quilts "judge ready". She will have a half day workshop titled "You be the Judge" on Tuesday, April 12th from 9 – Noon at the International Quilt Museum. Please go to the Lincoln Quilters Guild website and you can get more information about the speaker and registration instructions.

International Quilt Museum - Upcoming event starting April 1st

- Sandy Hanson announced the Red / White quilts donated to the IQM by Joanna Rose (who passed away in November 2021). She has also donated about 65 cheddar quilts. This will be part of IQM's 25th anniversary of the James Family's donation that started the development of the IQM. As you click the links below, pay particular attention to the quilt hanging system, which was developed & patented by an engineer. There is also a book that illustrates all of the quilts.
