Patterns Everywhere

For many people, quilting is a pleasant hobby or a way to create treasured heirlooms. But for Patty Hawkins of Lyons, Colorado, quilting is an obsession. To her, a quilt is like canvas is to a painter. "It's a way to play with colors and to be expressive using fabrics", says Patty, an accomplished fiber artist. "Art can be most powerful. It makes us see things with new eyes. So often we see but don't look."

Patty makes her own fabrics and says, "Making my own fabrics is truly like chocolate cake, without all the calories, just delicious beyond words! It is glorious fun to dye fabrics! These unique fabrics inspire my fabric collages, which are fragments from our Colorado landscapes and living in our mountain town of Estes Park. My ideas come from the lights and shadows of the day, the seasons of the aspen trees, the amazing rock colors, reflection scribbles, and, of course, the amazing majesty of the Rocky Mountains."

President's Message

Time does fly by. It seems that a short time ago, I was asked to be president of this wonderful group of talented people. Then, I had the pleasure to ask someone to make the next raffle quilt.

Lois Wilson and Diane Deahl answered that request. They created Mystical Markings and it is truly the result of a remarkable collaboration. Rich O'Hare donated his time to do the machine quilting and his talented touches shine in this elaborate creation!

Our guild is fortunate to have those who work so hard and give much to enrich us all. Thank You! It just doesn't seem adequate words for the three of you to create such a beautiful piece of art. *Thank you Lois, thank you Diane,
and THANK YOU Rich!*

The calendar for upcoming events at the International Quilt Study Center and Museum:

A big thank you to everyone who came to the First Friday celebration of National Quilting Day sponsored by LQG and IQSC. Jonathan Gregory presented a very interesting and informative lecture on Rose Kretsinger. Thanks, to all those furnishing cookies and serving as hostesses for the evening.

New and renewed docents are welcomed by Angela Konin, Education Coordinator, IQSC&M. A formal new docent class will be offered in the fall, but a fast track docent training program is available now. It is a very rewarding experience so contact any of the present docents or Angela Konin at the IQSC for further details. Collections care training will be offered in the fall. Visitor services includes galleries and Mary Campbell Ghormley Reading Room hosts. Volunteer training for visitor services will probably be offered in the spring. There are many opportunities for volunteers at the IQSC.

A total of 24,725 visitors have been to the IQSC through February 22, 2009. This includes visitors from 26 foreign countries. Approximately 1,000 quilts were added to the IQSC holdings between 2007-08 making the total collection around 3000.

Saturday, March 28, 2009: Quiltmaking Demos, doll quilts, 10:00 am to 1:00 pm.

Sunday, March 29, 2:00 - 3:30 pm, Bridget Long, UK will be presenting a lecture: Like Gulliver's Clothes: Early British Patchwork. Bridget Long is the 2009 IQSC Fellowship recipient.

Louise Howey services

Memorial services for Louise Howey will be Saturday, April 11, 10:00 am at First Plymouth Chapel, 20th and D Streets. Louise passed away on February 16, 2009. For more information, go to www.journalstar.com. In the blue heading above the articles, click on Obituaries. Once you get to that page, scroll down to Search Options. You will need to type in "Howey" in the Last Name Search and place a "date range" of last sixty days to find her obituary.

Louise's Video presentation

In 1995, a group from LQG interviewed four of our earliest mothers – Mary Ghormley, Ginny Welty, Jean Davie, and Louise Howey. They video taped the interviews and presented the video at a later meeting. We will be playing Louise's interview on a TV in the main room (left of the stage) before the April 13 meeting. We will start at 6:00 p.m. It will be repeated at 6:20 and 6:40 pm. Come early and enjoy a look back at Louise's delightful sense of humor.

Next month's block will be a split sunflower. Handouts are on the table and will be in the Plain Print. Blocks may be turned in at the April and May meetings.

International Quilt Study Center & Museum – Lois Wilson. The First Friday event co-hosted by LQG and IQSC this past Friday was a success. Thanks to all of you who came, and a special thank you to the many who provided cookies. There were several dozen cookies left and they are in Judy Lane's freezer to be given to Matt Talbott for an upcoming lunch. Thank you also to those who served as hostesses. Jonathan Gregory gave a very informative lecture on Rose Kretsinger's life and her work. Lincoln Quilters Guild members can be very proud of having Jonathan receive a scholarship to help him in his research. It was a great cooperative effort and we look forward to working with the IQSC for future events. Watch the newsletter for the calendar to take advantage of other opportunities at the IQSC.

Friendship Block Exchange
Raw Edge Applique
Sunflowers

Part I

Due April and May LQG meetings.
Drawing for blocks at the May 2009 meeting.

Fabric required for each flower:

Large flower: 8½-inch square

Small flower: 5½-inch square

Middle flower: 7-inch square

Center: 4-inch square

NOTE: There is no background fabric used for this flower.

Use different values of the yellow-gold family for flowers. Batiks, marble, tone on tone, as well as plaids, stripes and patterns. Just so there is contrast.

Center is dark brown. Plain or patterned is fine.

Fold the squares of fabric right sides together both horizontally and vertically. Press. A spritz of spray starch may help to stabilize.

Using the pattern below cut the flowers and center. Mark the top of each.

Beginning with the middle flower and matching center folds stitch to the large flower with very small zig-zag stitch ¼ inch from the edge.

Turn to wrong side and cut away the large flower fabric leaving about ¼" from the stitching.

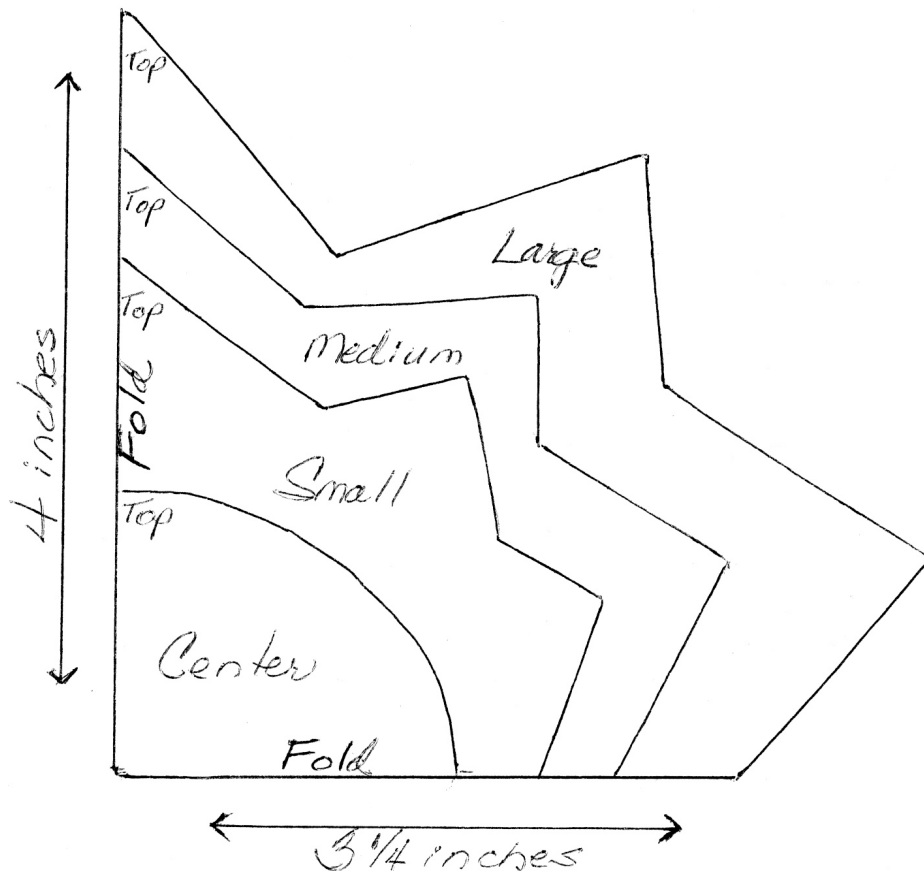

Turn to right side and attach the small flower to the middle flower. Again turn to the backside and trim.

Follow the same directions with the brown center and again turn to the back and trim the small flower fabric away.

You will turn this raw edge sunflower in for the drawing in May.

If questions call Donna Welte 402-234-7329 or Anita Dover 402-488-5008

NOTE: This pattern is to size. Trace or make copies for your flowers.

Library Books Needed

I'm from a small town in northern Minnesota. Their public library has about 12 old quilt books which are always checked out. If anyone has a book they no longer want that they'd like to donate to the Babbitt Public Library. I'll have a box at the announcement table at the April and May meetings in which to collect them. They'd be so appreciative as would I.

September 2006 - May 2007 = 521

September 2008 - February 2009 = 305

My grandmother was 98 when she passed. Before she passed away she would always tell me about her quilts. She would tell me that she wanted me to give each one of my children a quilt, and I had seven children . . . So she said, "Give each child a quilt and then give my two brothers a quilt." She had enough to do that and then some over. Then she said, "the rest of them I was to keep for myself." Sometimes I get to thinking about her and I just look at the quilts and it makes me feel that she's close by. Because this is something she liked to do and it's something she did by hand.

Raffle Quilt Revealed

President Martha Lane presented the 2010 Raffle Quilt at the March LQG meeting. Mystical Markings was created by Lois Wilson and Diane Deahl. It was machine quilted by Rich O'Hare.

The Quilt Mums will be Margrethe Ahlschwede and Judy Lane.

More information will soon be available about the role that Lincoln Quilt Guild members will have in the selling of tickets for this beautiful quilt. The purpose of this quilt and the Guild's Biennial Quilt Show is to help finance the Guild's budget. It helps support our programs, classes, community outreach, and overall functioning of the Guild. In addition to the financial purpose, the Quilt Show is an opportunity for Guild members to share their passion for quilting with the larger community.

Watch for news of when tickets will be ready for distribution to all members. It is a good time to start thinking about how you can help to sell raffle tickets. Remember that you can be a purchaser of the tickets for giving to others and for yourself.

The raffle quilt will be on display in July at QuiltNebraska 2009. Tickets will be sold at that event.

A Quilter's Favorite Recipe

Thought I would make some chocolate cupcakes for dinner one night. I read over the recipe to get it just right. The first thing I read was "sift and measure the flour."

Well, I measured some fabric and I still had an hour. I went back to the recipe. It said, "Cut butter in." But I cut out some patterns and stuck in a pin. "Then melt 2 squares of chocolate and add to above." I sewed 2 squares of fabric. Oh, this recipe I love! And the last part I read was "Fold nuts in last." When I looked at the clock one whole hour had passed. So, I folded some fabric. (That old recipe's a winner.) One more quilt block was finished. It's such fun fixing dinner!

The Astrology of Quilters

Aries

March 21 – April 19

The Aries quilter has a vision and a purpose, a strong personality that will be expressed with a momentum that pulls everyone else along.

They are driven by their passion for their art, and their high energy. Natural leaders, they clear the way for others to follow.

Some quilters have loved our meetings so much that they actually learned to drive so they would not have to miss one or depend on someone else to take them. Seeing so many women taking up this marvelous art form is really a lasting reward.

A Trip to the Quilt Shop

A pillow to finish for class that night
I needed some thread to match it just right.
As I drove toward the quilt shop to purchase the thread
I inspected the gas gauge, past empty, I read
At the nearest gas station, I filled up the car
Then I began to get hungry before driving far.
After filling me up at a fast food drive-thru
Something else was nagging. More errands to do?
Yes. I went to pick up my clothes from the cleaners
For the scout hike, I bought some buns and some wieners.
As I glanced at the clock, I remembered my daughter
She was at a friend's home, so I went there and got her.
After taking her home, thought I'd try it once more
And I hoped that by five, I'd be in the shop door.
When I reached the quilt store, it was four-fifty-nine
I ran inside quickly and saw the SALE sign
I bought some great fabrics in blue, brown and red
Then drove home and discovered I'd forgotten about the thread.
