

Volume 41, Number 9

November 2014

Guild Meeting: Monday, November 10, 2014

Speaker: Diane Gloystein from Lincoln, NE

<http://www.designonawhim.com/index.htm>

Diane Gloystein loves to create unique one of a kind creations on her sewing machine. As a National Educator representing Sulky of America, she travels around the country entertaining and educating fellow sewing enthusiasts. In her words, "It's my job to inspire others with creative ideas as I share my passion for the art of sewing."

Lecture: Thread Jazz for Quilting and Embellishing - Needle and Thread Know-How

Learn about many types of threads and their uses and what needles work for various applications. Stabilizers for use in quilting will be discussed. There will be many tips and hints to enhance your quilting. Diane will be bringing books and various products that she will be referring to in her presentations and have these items for sale at the meeting and class. She is only able to accept cash and checks.

November 11 Workshop: Split Purse-onalities

Teacher: Diane Gloystein

Date: Tuesday, November 11, 2014

Time: 9:00am – 4:00pm

Make a large quilted shoulder bag with a "Split Personality" as the focal point. With Diane's expertise we will learn about what products work well with this application and she will share her "Split-personality" technique so each bag will be an individual project. This Split Personality bag would be a wonderful gift, just in time for the holidays.

President's Message

Hi Everyone,

The November meeting is the last time I'll stand before you as president.

The year has flown by for me. We've been really busy, but we've accomplished a lot. We had a very successful quilt show that seemed to come together flawlessly, but I know the quilt committee worked hard and made it look easy. We had a studio tour that turned out to be a lot of fun and was enjoyed by many who visited the homes. We did raise the dues for 2015 – which wasn't so much fun, but was necessary – but it should help put the Guild on better financial footing. We enjoyed some wonderful and talented instructors who gave us great programs and wonderful classes. We did pass a budget for 2015. The budget now seems to meet the wishes of the Guild membership, but it won't give the Guild as much financial stability as we had hoped. Last but not least, you elected a slate of officers for 2015, who are all ready to step up and keep the Guild moving forward. I learned a lot about the Guild and its members. You all are very loyal members and care about the Guild. You want to have interesting speakers and you want to continue the outreach programs.

President Kathy Spitsen and the new Board will need your help next year. There are many volunteer positions that need to be filled. The only way to continue a program or start a new project is to have Guild members step up and help with the work. Our Guild is only as strong as the members who volunteer their time, knowledge and assistance. When Kathy calls you looking for committee chairs and members, please say yes. Better yet, call Kathy and learn about the committees, and volunteer for a committee that interests you.

I won't be standing in front of the meetings next year, but I will be there to enjoy the programs and classes from the audience. Since I joined the Guild in 1997, I have probably only missed a very small number of meetings, and I plan to be there regularly.

Thank you to everyone who helped me this year, thanks to committee chairs and members, and thanks especially to the Board members who were always ready to help.

Keep quilting!

Linda

Minutes of the Lincoln Quilters Guild – October 13, 2014

College View Seventh-Day Adventist Church – Lincoln, Nebraska

President Linda Daiker welcomed members and guests.

Judy Lane introduced Leslie Levy, the new executive director of the IQSCM who brought the guild members up to date on the displays and the construction progress at the Quilt House.

Mary Sedlak introduced the speaker, Debra Henninger for her program "Hobo Quilts."

Sara Kenny reviewed the upcoming classes in October and November. On October 14th, Debra Henninger's class, "Hobo Blocks Table Runner" had several spaces left for anyone interested.

The November class "Split-Purse-onalities" taught by Diane Gloystein on November 11 also has several slots left and will cost $40.00.

The business meeting was called to order, and President Daiker expressed thanks to Debra Henninger for her presentation.

There being no additions or corrections, the Minutes of the September 2014 meeting were approved as printed in Plain Print, and the September 2014 Treasurer's report was remanded for audit.

New Business: President Daiker introduced Sherry Taylor, chairperson of the awards committee. Sherry Taylor announced the recipient of the Bright Star award was Ginny Harvey and the members of the Quilt Show Committee, Carolyn Garner, Sheila Green, Pam Rowland, Meylonie Schatz, Mary Swinton, and Lynne Weinhold, all were awarded the Shining Star award.

President Daiker asked for any nominations from the floor for 2015 officers. As none were presented, the slate of officers was elected by acclamation. The new officers are Kim Shelly as President-Elect, Pat Kant and Carol Curtis as Vice Presidents-Elect, Danielle Hecker as Treasurer-Elect and Kath Conroy as Secretary for the 2015 year.

Copies of the 2015 budget were distributed to the members and Marsha Conley discussed several of the expense and income items. A motion was made and seconded to accept the budget. Discussion from the floor about the scholarship funds led to a motion to keep the scholarship in the budget and to add the extra dollars needed to total $1000 from the savings account to fund the scholarship. This amendment was seconded and approved. The membership then voted to approve the budget as amended.

Old Business: No old business was discussed.

Announcements: Kathy Spitsen made the following announcements: There is only one more month for submitting Santa Socks. There will be a workshop at the IQSCM on October 25th from 10:00am – 2:00pm. Please bring a sack lunch and your machine. Fabric will be provided and there is free admission.

The Omaha Quilters Guild is inviting Lincoln guild members to attend their upcoming programs. On November 11 Mary Fons will teach 2 classes – Churn Dash in the morning and Rolling Stone Block in the afternoon. The Omaha Quilt Guild does charge non-members $5.00 at the door to attend. For more information, please check online at the Omaha Quilters Guild.

Information for the Fall Retreat will be coming out in the next few days and there is still room to attend.

Kris Vierra has a few raffle tickets for the Nebraska State Guild quilt.

A Trunk Show featuring Barb Fife will be held at the NPPD Off-Site Response Facility in Auburn, Nebraska on Saturday, November 8th at 1:00 pm.,

Thank you notes were received from Sandy McMillan, Shelly Burge, and Susan Minchow who won awards from the LQG for the quilts at the 2014 State Fair.

Kaneko, a nonprofit cultural organization, will host a collective exhibition called Fiber: Craft, Culture, Art from February 6 – April 25, 2015. More information will be provided later.

The IQSCM Holiday Sale will be November 28 – December 6. All guests will receive a 10% discount on purchases made in the gift shop.

There were 4 guests present. Joan Ogle and Ginny Harvey announced they need to fill 100 – 150 Santa Socks and asked for small toys, gloves, hats, etc. to also fill the stockings in addition to the Santa Socks needed. They reminded everyone of the workshop on October 25th at IQSCM.

Vicky Skuodas announced that 375 Cuddle-Quilts were distributed including all the students at St. Mary's elementary school. They are now planning to make quilts for the 4th grade students at a public elementary school in Lincoln. The school most in need of help will be selected.

Janee Dlugosh asked members to note that on November 21 – 22 from 11am – 4pm the IQSCM will host Art Market featuring quilt and textile artists plus work and watercolor artists. This is a fundraiser for the Quilt House.

Kay Hoff and Ginny Harvey announced that proceeds from the mini-affle were $114.00. A butterfly wall hanging donated by Kris Vierra was won by Mary Swinton. Lana Reffert won the basket mini quilt donated by Vicky Skuodas. June Reta won the $25.00 Cosmic Cow gift certificate donated by Sandra Wade and Marsha Conley won the Halloween wall hanging donated by DeEtte Turgeon.

President Daiker adjourned the meeting to Show and Tell.

Minutes submitted by Wilma Daddario, LQG Secretary

A Big Big "Thank You" to everyone who stopped by and bought books and magazines at the Oct 13th meeting. The Sale was a HUGE success bringing in just over $500.00. The leftover books and magazines have been donated to the IQSCM for their use. We could not have done it without all of you so ...Thank You to the volunteers and all who generously bought and donated to this cause.

Quilts for Pilger and Beaver Crossing Update!

Start with a volunteer activity for kids, mix in a good charitable comment/idea, add some serendipity, blend in numerous hours of volunteer sewing and donation of materials, and the result is a "product" that both educates and serves communities in need. That was the recipe that evolved from an unplanned set of circumstances and culminated with the Lincoln Quilters Guild drive that produced 50+ quilts that will be distributed to the victims of the tornadoes in Beaver Crossing and Pilger, NE.

With quilt construction organized and ready to get underway, the question of quilt distribution mechanisms was next. LQG and Omaha Modern Quilt Guild member, Lori Bain, was actively making and collecting quilts for the tornado victims. Quiltfest chair, Sheila Green heard about Lori Bain's efforts, contacted her and the partnership was formed! The project took place in the kid's activity area chaired by Jean Ang and Barb Clement during our biennial Lincoln Quiltfest. Generous volunteers donated materials for the project: a mountain of precut 5" squares, sashing strips, backing material and four sewing machines were in continuous use during the show. But the work did not stop with the end of the quilt show; many people were involved in various stages of turning quilt tops into completed quilts. Illustrating the importance of networking, quilts moved through the quilting community a step at a time. Individuals volunteered to quilt, using their long-arm machines. Members of a "small group" of quilters took home quilts to put on and finish binding. Completed quilts could be dropped off at one of the quilt shops in Lincoln or Seward, or returned to Jean Ang. All in all it was an enthusiastic GROUP project.

In the Omaha area, Lori Bain organized a huge effort involving the Omaha Modern Quilt Guild, the Elkhorn Quilt Guild, and GOALS. Workshops were held at AccuQuilt and quilts were stored there prior to distribution. Shops across the area were collection points for the quilts. Lincoln Quilts for Kids Chapter made and donated quilts!

All efforts combined resulted in a total of over 500 quilts! Sizes of quilts ranged from crib to queen and many in-between!

September 13, some 350 quilts were distributed to those affected by the tornados, from families to individuals in nursing homes.

Distribution of quilts will be in Beaver Crossing will be held on October 25.

This effort has been amazing! It has brought together Modern, traditional, experienced, non-experienced, young and old quilters, ALL working towards a common goal with great success! Tornado victims were comforted by both warm quilts and warm hearts. Those who received quilts were deeply touched and very grateful for the donations. We hope the quilts bring comfort to those whose lives were changed in a matter of moments.

International Quilt Study Center & Museum

New Quilt House Director Addresses LQG

The new Ardis and Robert James Executive Director of Quilt House shared insight into the latest and upcoming happenings at the International Quilt Study Center & Museum during the Oct. 13, Lincoln Quilters Guild meeting.

Leslie Levy, who began her tenure on July 1, gave updates on the museum's building expansion project, new exhibition spaces and recent public outreach programs.

In September, volunteers, including members of the LQG, provided assistance for a community art project led by Lynn Setterington in support of her exhibition, "Signature Cloths," which is now on display at the museum. For the project, participating Lincoln middle school students stitched their names into blocks, which will be pieced into quilts. Students from different cultures and backgrounds were able to connect through sewing.

The museum opened a new gallery space on its first floor in October. This space will be used to highlight pieces from the museum's permanent and education collections in addition to short-term community and traveling exhibitions.

Progress continues on the museum's 13,000 square-foot expansion, which will double the size of the museum's gallery and collections storage space.

"It has been exciting and amazing to see how fast it goes up," Levy said.

Levy invites LQG members to participate in the IQSCM's 2015 symposium, "Making and Mending: Quilts for Causes and Commemoration," which will be held April 16-18 on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's East Campus.

"It's shaping up to be quite a symposium," she said. "We hope you will come and join us if your schedules allow."

Visit www.quiltstudy.org for more information about activities, exhibitions and more.

Museum Shop Holiday Sale

In honor of the upcoming holiday season, the International Quilt Study Center & Museum will offer all visitors 10 percent off of all items in the museum's shop Nov. 28 – Dec. 6. This includes new books, clothing, quilting notions and more.

Be sure to stop by the IQSCM's table at the Nov. 10, LQG meeting to view samples of the newest items to arrive in the Museum Shop.

For more information visit www.quiltstudy.org or call 402-472-6549

Free Admission to Quilt House This Winter

Guests are invited to visit the International Quilt Study Center & Museum at Quilt House for free from Dec. 2, 2014, through Feb. 5, 2015.

During this time, Quilt House will briefly close the doors to its main galleries while it undergoes general maintenance in preparation for the grand reopening of the newly expanded building next summer.

Visitors will instead be able to view displays of quilts, sewing machines and a bronze statue on loan from the Nebraska State History Museum in other parts of the building.

Visit the museum's website at www.quiltstudy.org for more information about hours and availability.

Quilts of Valor will be sewing at the IQSC the second Saturday of each month, beginning in November. We will meet from 10:00 am to 3:00pm. Bring your machine or hand work; a project and lunch. All are welcome and admission to the Museum is free if you are coming to sew. No registration required....just show up! QOV will be sewing at the Bernina Sewing Studio on Thursday October 30 from 10:00am to 3:00 pm. Bring your own project and supplies. Contact Judy Lane (judithblane@yahoo.com) to sign up; registration is required.

Mark your calendars for two very special QOV sewing events in February 2015:

Saturday February 7 is QOV National Sewing Day. The Lincoln Group will meet that day to sew all day as part of the national sewing event. More details to follow.

Friday and Saturday, February 27 and 28, 2015: Country Traditions in Fremont will be hosting a QOV event. For more information and to register, contact Julia Schroeder (julia.schroeder@QOVF.org)

Thank you to all Guild members who have made Quilts of Valor this year. We have awarded nearly more than 150 QOVs in Nebraska this year, and we never could have done that without the support of Lincoln Quilters!

FIBER WORKS FIBER ARTS SHOW

Fiber Works will be holding their annual Fiber Arts Show DEC. 1 - DEC. 31 at the Jewish Community Center's Art Gallery, 333 S. 132nd Street in Omaha Hours: are 8AM-9PM Monday through Thursday, 8-5 on Friday, and 11-5 on Sunday. The exhibit is closed on Saturday.

Featured artists include numerous LQG members.

I know — it's probably not even Halloween yet when most of you are reading this but this is the last issue of Plain Print until next year as we get ready to take our winter break. So, to all LQG members and friends, may all the holidays you celebrate be safe, happy and healthy! See you back here after Valentine's Day!
