To members of LQG,

I was so surprised when you presented me with one of the Friendship Star tops at the May meeting. I was speechless (and that doesn't happen often). So now I'm saying thank you for the quilt top and for your support of the Cuddle Quilt project. You are the ones who have sustained the interesting the contributions. Your Hands of friendship are much appreciated.

Sincerely Jan Stehlik.

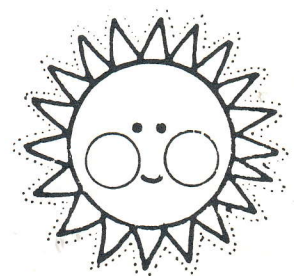

BE PREPARED!!! PACK UP!!!

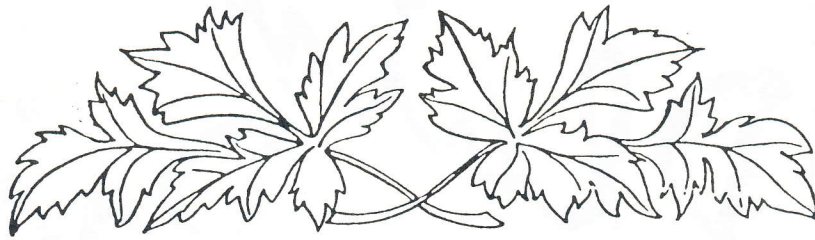

START NOW!!!!!!

There is so much going on at the November meeting, we all need to get ready the night before.

THINGS TO BRING:

1. MUG
2. CANNED FOOD
3. LIBRARY BOOKS
4. ORNAMENT TO EXCHANGE
5. ANGEL DESIGN QUILTS FOR SHOW AND TELL.
6. A SACK FOR ALL YOUR BOUTIQUE PURCHASES.
7. SMILE!

O God, Creator,

We can feel your gift of creativity within ourselves, each of us, our creativity awaiting life. Its voice whispers to us, seeking expression, asking to be shared.

You have given us light and color, fabrics and tools, ideas and inspiration, with which to create.

For this we give thanks.

You have given us vision as well as eyesight, talent as well as skill, imagination as well as knowledge.

For this we give thanks.

You have given us the ability and the opportunities to learn, to do, and to share. Our work is affirmed by gathering here with those who share common experiences and struggles.

For this we give thanks.

You have given us families and friends who help us, who motivate and inspire us, who broaden our lives with their love.

For this we give thanks.

Guide us, O wondrous spirit of creation, as we grow in wisdom, grace, and goodness. May the patchwork of our lives give voice to beauty, make color and design and pattern the context of our lives. And may we compose not only our quilts but also our lives guided by the whispers of creation.

Amen.

Attention: Betty Sue O'Dell

I bought one of your patterns for the Crazy Quilt Top, at the Lincoln National Quilt Show. Your tops are very unique.

However, your pattern was a tremendous disappointment. It really is not a pattern, just a picture. It took my friend and I two and one half hours (5 woman hours) to trace the pictures of each piece and measure quarter inch seam allowances! I thought I had bought a pattern. It is not a useable pattern because the one sheet is printed on both sides, and one cannot even cut out the pieces!!

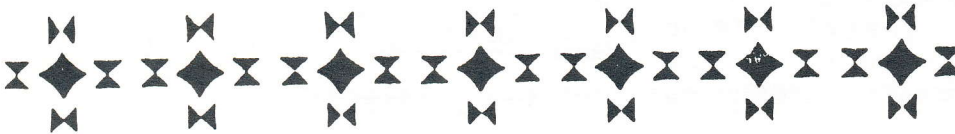

After we had traced the pieces, added seam allowance, we had to cut out each piece. THEN we had a pattern!!

I will be extremely careful before I buy any other pattern such as yours. I will insist on the merchant opening the pattern to see what I am getting. $6.50 is an expensive pattern, too much for what I received.

Very truly,

MARGE
YOUNG

THANKS!

I want to thank the Lincoln Quilters Guild for selecting me to receive the 1991 scholarship grant to apply towards my research on the World-Herald quilt patterns. Each year your scholarship has helped fund some area of the overall information about quilts; and so enlarged the quiltworld for all of us. I have appreciated the work of previous recipients and I'm proud to add my efforts to theirs. Your efforts are important and appreciated.

Sincerely, Jan Stehlik.

FROM THE EDITOR

In Sitka, Alaska, it is the custom to wear tunics covered with colorful pins. I met a girl who had only a few pins. I told her I would try to get some to send to her. SO, IF you have duplicates of any pins, bring them to Martha Dennis to be sent on to Alaska.

NQA

As the Guild looks back on this summers' National Quilting Association Show, it can be only with well deserved pride in the effort and resulting "smashing" show. Over and over we say a heartfelt "thank you for your superb contribution". Do each of you have your volunteer pin?

Just a few details remain. At the Sept Guild meeting those who had shared in the responsibilities of the show for at least 4 hours were invited to put their name in the pot for a drawing for remaining volunteer gifts. Many were claimed that evening, and others at the October meeting. A few remain. If not claimed at the Nov meeting, these items will be held for use at the time of the American Quilt Study Group when they meet in Lincoln in October 1992.

A projection screen which was loaned last summer is still at Jean Davie's house. Please claim it.

We will have some odds and ends for sale at the Nov. boutique. That should ring down the curtain on this wonderful endeavor.

Judy Lane and Jean Davie

DOWN MEMORY LANE

Since we are a large group, it is difficult for members to browse in the old scrapbooks, so we will be sharing information about the Guild's "past" from time to time in the newsletter.

The year is 1973. The Lincoln Quilters' Guild is a new organization. They too, are searching for "roots". Mr. Ernest Haight of David City showed his quilts and demonstrated methods at the September meeting. In October, the group journeyed to North Platte, to visit Grace Snyder and view some of her quilts. (What an auspicious first year!) They were busy planning their first quilt show, "One Hundred Years of Quilting in America", which would hang at the Lincoln Community Playhouse in January.

WHERE IS THE BEGINNING???

This question was heard many times at our gigantic quilt display last summer at Pershing. To answer that, this winter, we might say - a small quilt group is the perfect way to begin. You will begin to make new friends and you will begin to see new quilting projects.
