FROM THE PRESIDENT'S PEN

A recent thought . . .

A morning meditation I recently had said, "The only way to grow up to be a sweet old lady is to start practicing when you are young." This got me to thinking, which is what meditations are supposed to do, although I don't always follow the path I am supposed to but that is another subject. What I started thinking about was, "The only way you become a good quilter is to practice and it's never too late to start." I have yet to meet a person who has never had a sewing lesson of any type who when picking up a needle for the first time was an expert quilter.

My mother taught me to applique and embroider. My paternal grandmother taught me to sew and my maternal grandmother taught me to use my imagination. My husband's grandmother taught me to quilt. To these wonderful women I will be eternally grateful. They opened up new horizons for me, more than they ever realized. Since I joined L.Q.G. I have taken a number of workshops and classes and have yet to leave a class without learning something new, and not just from the teachers. I have gleaned many hints and bits of information from other participants that have been invaluable. Not everyone has someone that can get them started in quilting or know where to go to learn. Now you do. If you want help to get started quilting or want to learn more about a certain aspect of quilting that you are unsure about just watch for the Back to Basics classes that will be sponsored by LQG. There will be five sessions with different topics that will include grainline, templates, machine and hand piecing, rotary cutting, machine and hand applique, borders, layering, machine and hand quilting and finishing. Whatever level of quilting you are at, all are welcome. Watch in the PLAIN PRINT and the Events Posters at the general meeting for time and place or write to Sue Volkmer, include a LSASE (large self addressed stamped envelope) for schedules and information. This is a great way not only to learn more about quilting, but to also meet other quilters and get to know other guild members.

A final thought: "As each day passes, quilters don't grow older, they like their stitches, keep improving."

Sandy Anderson, President

WHO IS THAT QUILTER????

If I could see her picture with her name, then I could ask her how to do that stitch!! We are going to start something new this year. A photo album of LQG members, individuals and groups. Get out a picture of yourself (flattering or otherwise) and send it to the guild librarian, Martha Dennis. Put your name and the date on the back. If you do NOT send one, we will start taking candid shots, and you know how bad those might be. The photo album will be kept in the resource room near the library books.

RAFFLE TICKETS AVAILABLE

Anyone wishing to check out, sell or purchase raffle tickets for Nebraska Spring Song Quilt should call Connie Strobe at 423-7375. They are $1 apiece, or three for $2.00.

HOSPITALITY CHAIRPERSON

If you know of a member who should receive a card from LQG for happy news or sympathy, please contact LUCY BEEZLEY, Hospitality Chairperson at 488-5817.

Volunteers Needed To Taste Goodies!

I am a student at UNL and would like to conduct a "taste preference" experiment using members of the Quilters Guild at the October meeting. I will have tasting samples and survey forms near the refreshment table. This is strictly voluntary, but your help will be greatly appreciated. If you decide to participate in the testing/tasting, please be sure to obtain and completely fill out the questionnaire. The completed questionnaires may be left on one of the tables before or after the meeting. Results of the experiment (and knowledge of what you've eaten) will be shared in another issue of PLAIN PRINT or at a later meeting if there is enough time.

Please leave the samples for those who are willing to participate in the survey -- my recipe won't be large enough to feed the masses.

Thank you, Kim Schalch

THE FRENCH CONNECTION by Melva Plouzek

I became involved with the NACEL foreign language exchange this summer. I had the good luck to have the French chaperon as a guest for July. Her name was Anne Maigne. She teaches English to French children. She has two sons, 14 and 17 years old. Her home is in Marseille, France on the southern coast of the Mediterranean. We exchanged lots of learning. Quilting is not done by many people in her part of France, it's too warm to need quilts. They are around for decoration. One of the things we did besides cook and clean up storm damage, visit interesting places around town like the State Capitol, Nebraska Book Store and go to plays . . . was QUILT!

Anne enjoyed my library of quilt books and my quilts. For her own project, we raided the scrap box. We found enough light and dark blues to match her kitchen. As she was a beginner, I kept it simple, and since she has a Singer machine in the same vintage as mine, she made rectangular LOG CABIN place mats. We got out the rotary cutter and she cut all her own strips and sewed them herself. On the muslin backs she appliqued one heart in the upper left hand corner. Since time was running short, I did some of the homemade navy bias binding. The mats were all finished for the return trip to France. I also sent along a beginners book of simple projects and hopefully we have a new recruit. I have been invited to visit her in France and I hope to take advantage of that offer this winter.

After visiting with my sister in London in March, I went on to Spain for a few days. My sister has a three bedroom flat there. She rents it out sometimes if anyone would be interested in a warm and sunny winter vacation.

I am looking forward to the coming years LQG get-togethers!

A tour of Sandy's workroom was her part of the on-going SHOW AND TELL this group features. Kathi Kinnaman urged each of us present to enter some piece of work in the up-coming March LQG Auction. Pat Anderson hosts the October 5th get-together and Lois Wilson will be her co-hostess.

As space permits, we will print your small group news items, i.e.: planned projects, members, closed/open memberships, goals, fun shared, hostesses and those attending, how you and your group plan and initiate those plans . . . anything you would care to share. Send your news to Carole Montgomery, Co-editor, PLAIN PRINT, 600 Dale Drive, Lincoln, NE 68510

Recipes from Quilters

Apparently this is a desired item for the PLAIN PRINT. Several recipes were submitted, and we will print them as space permits.

The quilter who submitted this October issue recipe finds this an easy and delicious cake to serve at her small quilt group.

German Almond Coffee Cake (The Germans call it Blenenstich.)

CAKE

12 oz carton (1 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups)
sm. curd cottage cheese
 $\frac{2}{3}$ cup milk
1 tsp almond extract
2 eggs
1 pkg Pillsbury Plus
White Cake Mix

TOPPING

$\frac{2}{3}$ cup sugar
 $\frac{2}{3}$ cup marg. or butter
2 tbsp milk
1 cup slivered or
sliced almonds
 $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp almond extract

Heat oven to 350°F. Grease and flour bottom of 13x9 inch pan. In medium saucepan, heat sugar, margarine and 2 tablespoons milk to boiling, stirring constantly; boil 1 minute. Remove from heat; stir in almonds and $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon almond extract. Cool while preparing cake. In large bowl, beat cottage cheese, $\frac{2}{3}$ cup milk, 1 teaspoon almond extract and eggs at medium speed until well mixed (mixture will be smooth). Add cake mix; blend 1 minute at low speed until moistened. Spread in prepared pan. Spoon cooled topping evenly over batter.

Bake at 350° for 35 to 45 minutes or until golden brown and toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Serve warm or cool. 12 servings.

Quilter's Quiz

When you read THE PLAIN PRINT are you a skimmer or a swimmer?

A swimmer "dives in" to the content of the newsletter and becomes informed and knows what's going on at meetings. A skimmer looks at headlines and skips across the pages with wild abandon and looks somewhat confused at the next guild meeting.

Looking for swimmers out of all of you in the '93-'94 season. In order to do that we're going to have a POP QUIZ once the newsletter has been in everyone's hands for at least a day! At random a call will be placed to an LQG paid member, a short (but sweet) question will be asked by one of the co-editors and NO FAIR PEEKING at your issue for the answer! You must pledge scout's honor not to grab your issue and paw through it silently with the mouth piece of the phone covered! You'll have ONE MINUTE from the start of the call to be prepared, and you could be the winner of a BROWN BAG OF GOODIES prepared especially by the co-editors of THE PLAIN PRINT! We will continue to make random calls until we have a winner! Don't think that living out of town immunizes you to a phone call either. We are not cheap. BE AWARE!

The winner of the September SKIMMER/SWIMMER BROWN BAG AWARD was none other than Rosie Westerhold! Rosie was the 6th member called. Those getting a chance at the goodies were Mary Brooks, Kathryn Bruggeman, Jean Ang, Libby Murrell and Marilyn Lammers. One of these ladies had her answering machine on and we just left a message to tell her what she missed and better luck next time.

The co-editors of the PLAIN PRINT were encouraged with each call in that the participants KNEW what they were missing! Perhaps we will have our dialing finger poised over your number after the October issue is in your hands! Do your homework!

THANKS

Many thanks for the beautiful cards and kind words of support I received from so many of you at the time of my husband Bob's death. Quilters are very caring people and I ask God's blessings upon all of you.

Sincerely,
Ellen Mayer

ORDER LQG GERANIUMS

YES! I want to order a TANGO RED Geranium to be displayed at the LQG QUILT SHOW AND DOLL AUCTION. Enclosed is my $8.50 check or money order, and I understand that my geranium will be used in the decorating during the show on March 18-19-20, 1994 and I will be responsible for picking my flower up after the show.

Letters to the Editors

Dear Quilters:

I think the people who volunteered to take down the show at the STATE FAIR should receive combat pay! Boy! Was it ever HOT up there in the Industrial Arts Building!

A sweaty quilter

Dear Editors:

I would like the recipes for the goodies served at the monthly LQG meetings. Especially the PUMPKIN BARS from 2 years ago.

Editors: Contact Teri Wenz hostess chair at that meeting.

I would like to see an article for the new and "newer" members featuring a glossary of terms. Such as CHALLENGE QUILTS, CHARM SQUARES, REVERSE APPLIQUE for starters.

Editors: We will comply, look in the upcoming editions.

I would like to read biographies on the officers. I think that would be interesting.

Editors: Okay, you're on!

Editors: Thank you for the many comments on the September PLAIN PRINT.

MARK RENKEN . . .

Photographer of the Stars!!

. . . and the BEARS PAW and the LOG CABIN and the FLYING GEESE quilts! This fellow has the knowledge and expertise to make your quilts look good on film. His skill and use of good lighting techniques help sell your quilt, if that is what you have in mind, or simply to preserve an oldie-goldie for posterity.

With Mark's busy schedule it is hard to nail him down for an interview, but it is a planned project for PLAIN PRINT in the near future.

HOW MANY BOOKS DO YOU THINK LQG HAS IN OUR LIBRARY ??????

A few years ago all of our books were listed in the year book with our names and addresses. Now we have over 280 books and more on the way. We no longer list all the books in the year book, but that does not mean you cannot have a list if you wish.

I have printed up a list alphabetically by author and by title. These lists are in the resource room for all to use. If you want your own copy of the list -- call me at least two days before any LQG meeting and I will photocopy and bring you one. If you do not call, you will not get one. You may be asked to swear on a stack of calico that you will READ the list after you have it in hand.

Now, about our books --- We have many kinds of reference books: these include history of patterns and styles of quilts, color, textiles. There are how-to books in the old hand pieced methods and others on the quicker new methods. There are children's stories about quilts. There are many small books on a certain phase of quilt making such as or bindings.

Am I getting you inspired? We also have videos to check out. If you can't stop stitching long enough to hold up a book, maybe you can turn on your VCR with a toe.

Thanks to Paulette Peters for an autographed copy of her new book "Corners in the Cabin".

Thanks to Sue Volkmer for donating "Imaginative Patchwork" by Martin & Young

Thanks to Judy Andrews for donating "Lap Quilting" by Georgia Bonesteel.

I have also just received "Color Confidence for Quilters" by Jinny Beyer.

Christmas Ornament Exchange

As part of the LQG holiday tradition, we will hold our annual Christmas Ornament Exchange during the November meeting.

We want to encourage every guild member to participate in the festivities and, in fairness to all, are requesting that only quality, handmade fabric ornaments be included. Each ornament must have a name tag attached to it, indicating the name of the contributor. This is being done to ensure a fair exchange among guild members.

More details will be available at the October meeting, or contact Joan Biasucci, 234-2148.

Minutes of the Sept. 13, 1993 LQG Meeting held at the Seventh Day Adventist Church, 7:30 pm

President Sandra Anderson called the meeting to order. She welcomed members and guests and introduced the officers: Sue Volkmer, president-elect; Rosie Westerhold, vice president; Lucile Lenz, secretary; Carroll Dischner, treasurer.

Sandra announced that yearbooks should be picked up. The order of business for the evening would be program, business and show and tell.

Rosie Westerhold introduced the program, "How Quilt Patterns Were Named" presented by Jane Clark Sjtapel, Pittsburgh, PA. Jane is a quilt historian and founder of the Feed Sack Club. She shared examples of feed sack quilt blocks and the origin of their names. Slides were shown.

Lucile Lenz announced a correction to the May minutes. There were no other corrections and the minutes were approved. The treasurer, Carroll Dischner, reported the August balance forwarded as $1,465.98; receipts, $772.18; disbursements, $434.18 and the Aug. 31 balance of $1,638.80. There is $15,070.33 in the money market account.

Sandra called for old business or, as Roberts Rules lists it, as continuing or unfinished business. Sandra announced the winners of the LQG Guild awards at the county and state fairs. Best of Quilts at the Lancaster County Fair award was accepted by Lucile Lenz. Kathleen Carsten, North Platte, won the state first quilt award and a thank you note from her was read. Donna Svoboda won the non-functional quilt award. She thanked the guild and announced that her quilt was made specifically for the quilt auction in March. Rose Schreiner, Nebraska City, won the Founder's Award.

Under new business Sandra reported that all announcements not in PLAIN PRINT or listed on the posted events calendar would be made by Pat Andersen, facilitator. They should be given to Pat prior to the meeting and each person should stand while their announcement is read.

Announcements made by Pat:

Anne Parrott, membership, reported there were 306 paid members prior to tonight with 16 new ones added. Those having questions should contact Anne. She will be available only before meetings for membership business. Anne thanked Martha Fink and Charlotte Boe for their assistance.

Kathleen McManis, hostess chair, and September chair, Doni Boyd, and her committee were thanked for the refreshments.

Carole Montgomery, newsletter co-editor, gave a deadline of September 13 for information to be included in the next PLAIN PRINT. The Brown Bag Swimmer Award was presented to winner Rosie Westerhold who was able to answer the question about information printed in PLAIN PRINT.

Sue Volkmer thanked those who exhibited and helped at the State Fair. There were 285 quilts entered. She also thanked those who shared quilts for the Earth Exhibit show. The Batts & Wizards class will meet Sept. 20. Back to Basics will have the first class September 30. Cost will be $20 for all five classes or $5 for individual sessions.

The Corny Bunch announced the fall retreat at the Gretna 4-H Camp, Sept. 24-26. There are still a few openings. Samples of some of the scheduled events were displayed on the information table. See PLAIN PRINT or contact Sandie Schulze if you have questions.

Next month there will be a half price clearance sale of LQG merchandise. Items will be available at the Oct. Meeting or by appointment with JoAnne Bair for the month of Oct.

Jean Davie had material for sale with the proceeds going to the Cuddle Quilt project.

Jean Ang announced the Fall Christmas Boutique in November.

There will be a sign-up time at the October meeting when numbers will be assigned. Ten percent of the proceeds will go to LQG.

There are still openings for the October workshop with June Ryker on Silver Dollar Logs to be held on Sun., Oct. 10, at Heritage Presbyterian Church. See Rosie Westerhold for information. Rosie announced she was walking in the Walktoberfest Walk for the Am. Diabetes Assn. on Oct. 3, and would appreciate support. The tote bag workshop is rescheduled for Sat., Oct. 16. The cost is $20 and location is Heritage Presbyterian Church, 35th and F. As a matter of information the letters SASE stand for Self Addressed Stamped Envelope so that information can be sent back to you.

Shelly Burge received a notice from Amrita Mahapatra from the Surya Art Gallery. She is looking for quilters to duplicate some of the art work in her gallery. Pat Andersen has her business card for those interested. Shelly needs at least two more quilts from students in her Dutch Inspiration workshop by Oct. 1 for the Houston Quilt Festival.

The quilt show will be held March 18-20, 1994, at the Cotner Center. Members should begin making craft items for the boutique and get quilts finished for the show. Geranium Junction will be the name for the boutique area. Call Millie Fauquet to receive your assigned number.

De Edgar has Cuddle Quilt kits available for pick-up.

Mickey Andersen is requesting materials suitable for a turn-of-the-century crazy quilt she is making for the doll auction.

Registration forms are due Oct. 1 for Anna's Restaurant "Quiltin' at the Creek, 1994." "Three's a Quilt" is the focus of the June show.

NSQG is having a quilting party in Nebraska City, Oct. 9, at the Lied Conference Center from 9-3:30 with Crystal Carter, national teacher, author and lecturer as the featured speaker. If interested the form is available from Pat Andersen.

Mickey Andersen, set decorator for the quilt show, needs garden theme items. Give her a list of items you would loan.

It was announced that some surplus food items from the evening's refreshments are for sale.

Lora Rocke shared information on the Challenge/Logo design to replace the Nebraska Windmill designed by Bud Dunklau in 1978. Ideas as well as drawings will be accepted. Possibly in February, designs can be displayed and voted upon. This would become the official logo for use by the LQG. Get your ideas to Lora.

Becky Haynes and Sheryl Jonas presented the supplement to PLAIN PRINT which includes the patterns for the friendship blocks for the year. It was distributed with the yearbooks and replacements will cost $1. They expressed thanks to Charlotte Boe for the set-up and printing. They noted that the months are not in order and for the December pattern the small square block should have 8 cut of black rather than 6. For the February pattern the pattern piece B needs to have 2 of the 4 reversed. The theme for the year is "Everybody is a Star." Examples of the blocks for the year were on display. This year there will be fewer winners winning a larger number of blocks. There were 38 Sept. friendship blocks won by Jeanne Garvin and Sharon Minear.

Carole Montgomery and Charlotte Boe, co-editors of PLAIN PRINT, were the "Meet-a-Member" quilters who had their work displayed. Sandra thanked them for their work on the PLAIN PRINT, and Charlotte for her work on the yearbook.

Show and tell featured winning quilts from the county and state fairs.

The meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,
Lucile Lenz, Secretary
