President's Column by Janiece Goin

Quilt Show Chairman, Christy Stoner, will gladly accept volunteers for the quilt show which will be held June 14,15,& 16 of 2002. Give Christy a call at 489-9259 or co-chair, Lorelee Novak at 423-3863. Make their job easier by letting them know you will help.

All Committees are in place and working. The only one not filled is Bus trip chair. Suggestions have been made for a Lincoln tour. If you would like to organize a tour, Lincoln, or otherwise, please let me know at 788-2241 or Goinherbs@aol.com. It could be time to take a break, especially with the show next year.

Are your fair entries ready? I haven't entered for the past 2 years, so I am glad to have an entry this year, and it is finished. I had hoped to have a wedding quilt finished for our son and wife (married last October) but that is not happening. It's still in the cutting out stage. I know you understand ! I hope they will. The exciting news is that they are expecting this October and we will become grandparents. The baby quilt is finished! I've had 2 made for a few years, so no sweat there.

Look forward to seeing you in September and all the beautiful show-and-tell quilts from the Fairs!

Santa's Socks

Even though it is the middle of summer, you may have time to create a Christmas sock or bag for the Santa's Socks project for November. If you are traveling, those little soaps and shampoo bottles that are furnished by the hotels and motels make great stocking stuffers. Another suggestion is to keep those children's toys that are included in the fast food kid's meals.

News from Katy Coleman, winner of the Scholarship for the 2000-01 guild year.

- Letter addressed to Diane Deahl and Members of the Lincoln Quilters Guild and dated May 26, 2001:

Thank you so much for awarding the Guild's 2000-2001 scholarship to me for use on the "INERTIA" gallery show project. I appreciate the hard work done by the scholarship committee on what had to be a difficult and time-consuming job!

There is something exciting about an organization that reaches out to encompass the art of quilting in all its forms and on so many levels. I look forward to giving credit to the Lincoln Quilters Guild in all phases of the "INERTIA" project. Indeed, I consider it a privilege. Sincerely,
Katy Coleman

"INERTIA" a contemporary quilt show. Katy's exhibit will be shown at the Tointon Gallery for the Visual Arts in Greeley, CO from October 8th through November 4th, 2001. The collection of approximately 30 quilts, all original and non-traditional in nature, uses many different construction techniques. The exhibit is a wonderful opportunity to represent the quilters of Nebraska outside the state's boundaries. Katy hopes to bring the show back to secured galleries throughout Nebraska and surrounding states, accompanied by workshops and/or classes. If you are traveling to Colorado this fall, perhaps you can visit Katy's exhibit.

The address for the gallery is: Tointon Gallery for the Visual Arts
Union Colony Civic Center

Library News

Guild members are invited to use the LQG library during the summer. If you want to check out an item to use at home, that is fine. Simply pull the card out of the pocket at the back of the item, sign it, and place the card in the box provided in the Resource Room. Materials checked out during the summer should be returned at or before the first meeting in the fall.

An inventory of the library was just completed, and numerous materials are missing from the collection. Please check your bookshelves to see if any LQG materials might be lurking among your personal quilting books. Any found materials can be returned to the Resource Room or at any Guild meeting.

If you have any questions, contact the Librarian, Kimberly Shelley, via phone at 467-4266 or via email at "scrappyquilt@hotmail.com".

A note about our fall programs from Kathy Moore

The programs and workshops we have booked for fall 2001 offer a variety of techniques and some outstanding speakers from near and far. We hope each of you will find something in these programs that will intrigue and inspire you. Listed below is a preview of what's to come.

First, a little about the process: Workshop registrations will again be open to members, only, two months prior to the date of the workshop. If there are openings left, it will be advertised to the public and/or nonmembers one month prior to the date of the workshop. Registrations will remain open until the class is filled. They are firm only when payment is received for that workshop. A SASE (stamped and self-addressed envelope) and a separate check, payable to LQG, must accompany each workshop registration. Registration fees will be non-refundable unless the class has a waiting list and someone else takes your place.

On September 10 Judi Robb and Nancy Graves (Robb 'n' Graves) from Manhattan, Kansas, will present their "From the Beginning" Trunk Show and tell how, since 1987, they have worked and learned together to make prize-winning quilts. They will show us approximately seventy of their quilts. If you want to learn how to do needle turn applique or if you need to brush up on your needle turning skills, sign up for their "Hearts and Vines" Wallhanging workshop on Tuesday, September 11. The class (for all skill levels) will run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Cost will be $25.

On October 8 Sylvia Einstein will be coming from Belmont, Massachusetts to talk about commercially printed fabrics and their use in contemporary quilts. Sylvia made her first quilt in 1975 to celebrate the bicentennial of the United States. She has exhibited on four continents, appeared in numerous magazines, and lectures in the U.S. and Europe. Her workshop on Tuesday, October 9 will show you how to design quilts using big, bold prints and other unusual fabrics. You will work with kaleidoscope graph paper and pencils or magic markers. Then you will glue fabric scraps in an intuitive manner; and design and piece a wall hanging or quilt. The workshop will run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and is suitable for all skill levels. Cost will be $25.

On November 12 Molly Anderson of Minden, Nebraska, will tell us how she makes her gorgeous hand appliqued and embellished hexagon-watercolor quilts. She says nothing she has done is "new except the fabric selection and placement." Come to guild meeting to see her work and hear how it's done. Molly doesn't give workshops so we have Judie Zinn coming from Omaha to teach her method of hand applique. If you didn't get a chance to attend the September workshop or you want to learn more about this design technique, sign up for this workshop on Tuesday, November 13. The workshop will run from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and is suitable for all skill levels. Cost will be $20.

Watch future newsletters for more information on future programs and registration forms for our workshops.
