Workshop: Texture and Form 1

Instructor: Velda Newman

Nature is an endless source of beauty and inspiration. With this in mind, learn how to get rid of “flat” appliqué. Students will learn to create texture and form using machine techniques.

Workshop: Printmaking

Instructor: Sheila Green, LQG Member

Let's learn two printmaking techniques: cyanotype (blueprint) and rubbings.

Both techniques create one of kind results.

Participants will make and take home fabrics they have created using these techniques.

Lincoln Quilters Guild Scholarship Awarded

Jonathan Gregory, Assistant Curator of Exhibitions at the International Quilt Study Center and Museum has been awarded the Lincoln Quilters Guild scholarship for 2019 in the amount of $1,000. Jonathan earned a doctorate in Human Sciences with a specialization in Textiles, Clothing and Design from the University of Nebraska.

His newest research project is entitled “Nebraskans and the 1970’s Quilt Revival”. Jonathan intends to interview and report on the women that kept the knowledge of quilting alive through the 1950’s and 1960’s before the revival that occurred in the 1970’s. Several Nebraskans were key in promoting and accelerating the interest in quilting during the revival.

At the conclusion of his research he will establish an exhibition in conjunction with the 50th anniversary of the Whitney exhibit at the International Quilt Study Center and Museum.

Reminders from the April meeting:

The guild plans to participate in the Isles Garage Sale again next year. So as the year flies by, be sure to put aside any fabric you might like to donate next year.

The May guild meeting will be at the church on the 2nd Monday as usual. However - the June meeting will be held on the 3rd Monday at the IQSCM (and there will be ice cream!)

Even though it's not a quilt show year, plans are already being made for the next quilt show in 2020. Joan Yoder and Vicky Skuodas have volunteered to co-chair the event. When you see them, be sure to thank them and let them know how you might be willing to help.

Weekend Forecast: Sewing, with no chance of house cleaning or cooking.

Lincoln Quilters Guild meets the second Monday of the month (March-November) at 7:00 pm at the College View Seventh Day Adventist Church, 49th and Prescott Streets, Lincoln, NE. June is an exception, with the meeting on the third Monday.
