NEW BUSINESS

President-elect Announcements – Lisa Burham announced the sad news that long-time guild member, Gloria Hall, had passed away in March and provided details for condolences to the family. She thanked everyone who donated fabric for the Isles Garage Sale with sales totaling approximately $450. Fabric donations were less than previous years. Plans are to participate again next year, so as guild members are asked to set aside fabric for that event. Lisa announced a bucket at the Treasurer's table for donations to the American Red Cross for Midwest Flood Relief. Also, a reminder that the June LQG meeting will be held June 17th at the International Quilt Study Center and Museum (IQSCM), but the May meeting will continue to be held at the church on the 2nd Monday of the month. Lisa also announced that the Guild often receives thank you cards from individual or family members who have been touched by LQG programs. Those and other items can be seen at the information table along with other items of interest.

Committee Reports

Nametag Recognition – Rosalind Carr awarded 4 members who remembered to wear their name tag with a fabric fat quarter.

Scholarship Committee – Bonnie Moses announced that the LQG has received one application for a scholarship from Jonathan Gregory, Assistant Curator of Exhibitions at the IQSCM. Jonathan earned a doctorate in Human Sciences with specialization in Textiles, Clothing and Design from the University of Nebraska. His newest research project is entitled “Nebraskans and the 1970’s Quilt Revival”. Jonathan intends to interview and report on the women that kept the knowledge of quilting alive through the 1950’s and 1960’s before the revival that occurred in the 1970’s. Some of the Nebraskans that will be emphasized include Mary Ghormley, Louise Howey, Floy Buehl and Jackie Dittmer along with other influential groups or individuals that fostered the revival. At the conclusion of his research, he will submit the findings to be published and also establish an exhibition in conjunction with the 50th anniversary of the Whitney exhibit.

IQSCM Liaison - Ann Hauder discussed the current exhibits.

Collecting and Recollecting: Contemporary Quilts in Western India – This exhibition brings you face to face with photos of quiltmakers in India posing with their quilts and next to the photo hangs the actual quilt. It almost feels as if you’ve met the quiltmaker. And when you see the photos of women sitting on the ground with their quilting tools: old clothing, a needle and a razor blade, it makes you thankful for your rotary cutter, rules, scissors and sewing machine. And when you see them washing their quilts in the river, it just makes you cringe. Come get a different perspective on quilts and quilting with the exhibition February 22nd through August 18th.

The timely exhibition Los Desconocidos: The unknowns – Made by the Migrant Quilt Project starting in 2000, each quilt represents the people who died in a particular year while crossing the Arizona desert after crossing the US-Mexico border. The quilts, made by individual artists or groups of artists utilize clothing discarded by migrants in the Arizona desert. Their names and dates of death are recorded on the quilts or if their bodies were not identified, they are represented by the word, desconocido, which means unknown. We hear a lot of things about the situation at the US-Mexico border, but we don’t often hear about the people who are dying in their attempt to come here. This exhibition deserves your attention and consideration between March 15th and June 27th.

Mini Raffle – Nancy Anderson announced proceeds for the raffle was $66.50.

The following four raffle prizes were awarded:

1. Anonymous donation – “Sophie’s Sugar Cookie” mini quilt kit in a jar.
2. Anonymous donation – Selection of Easter fabric, gift sack kit and 9 patch table topper.
3. Karalene Smith donated “No Time on My Hands” book by Grace Snyder and Kathy Bangsund donated a mug rug.
4. Pamela Rowland donated fat quarters and thread. Janet Phillips donated a notions case.

LQG members may sign up to bring future donations for raffles and the Mini-Raffle Table.

2020 Quilt Show – Joan Yoder and Vicky Skuodas will chair the quilt show. At this time, no date or place has been established. LQG members were encouraged to start thinking about their entries. Some members have volunteered to assist. As more volunteers are needed, they will be calling on members to assist.

Programs - Marilyn Schnepf reminded members of the upcoming programs that are listed on the LQG website. She introduced Stephanie Brandenburg who presented “Origins and Evolution of Frond”.

Meeting adjourned to Show and Tell.

Respectfully submitted by:
Jerry Lee Jensen, Secretary
