

Lincoln Quilters Guild Announcements

LQG Members Appreciation Night at IQSCM

June 17, 2019, 6:00 to 8:00 pm

The June 17th LQG meeting will be held on the third Monday of the Month and will start at 6:00 pm and be held at the International Quilt Study Center and Museum.

The meeting will begin with Ice Cream from the Dairy Store served on the second floor of the Museum. This will be followed by a brief meeting at 6:15.

The meeting will include a showing of Museum quilts of current and past members. Members who have taken classes this year are encouraged to bring their finished and unfinished projects to show the work they accomplished at this year's classes. Ample time will be available to view the exhibits on display at the Museum.

Free parking is available on the north side of the museum. If needed, additional free parking is available east of 33rd street at the University.

Please note that this is the third Monday, not the the second Monday and an hour earlier than usual.

We hope that everyone will enjoy a chance to view the exhibits at the IQSCM.

Workshop: Printmaking

Instructor: Sheila Green, LQG Member

Let's learn two printmaking techniques: cyanotype (blueprint) and rubbings.

Both techniques create one of kind results.

Participants will make and take home fabrics they have created using these techniques.

Workshop: Leftover Quilt

Instructor: Debra Jalbert

"I made my first quilt in 1992 but became obsessed in 2012, challenging myself to stop making quilts with patterns. I enjoy using most every piece of fabric and consider myself frugal; using even the smallest pieces has influence the way I design and work. I made my first leftovers quilt in 2016 and have made 13 of various sizes, you could say it's addicting.

"During class we will begin the process of constructing a leftovers quilt, aiming to finish the first 12 inches by the end of the day. A twelve-inch block might seem like a small accomplishment, but this is with tiny piecing, if you decide on larger pieces your block will grow larger more quickly."

Flood Relief Project

After the flooding our area experienced this spring, the Board discussed ways that guild members could help with relief efforts. We found information about a couple women who are collecting quilts and blankets to be delivered to those affected. If you'd like to donate quilts or blankets, please bring them to the August guild meeting the Board will make sure they get to these ladies for distribution. In addition, we are looking into the possibility of organizing a Sew Day so folks can work together on quilts for the project. If you're interested, please let us know by contacting Christina Chapman by Friday May 24 at cqchapman@gmail.com or 402.450.1217. We will then contact you when we have more details.

Threads Across Nebraska

The guild has been invited to submit quilts for the Nebraska State Quilt Guild's annual quilt show in October. We've been asked to provide 7 large quilts (64 x 64 or larger) and 7 small quilts (anything less than 64 x 64). Since the event is in Kearney, the guild will line up a volunteer to take the quilts to Kearney and a volunteer to return them to Lincoln. If you are interested in submitting a quilt or willing to help with pickup or delivery of the quilts, please contact Christina Chapman at 402.450.1217
