Lincoln Quilters Guild

July 2023

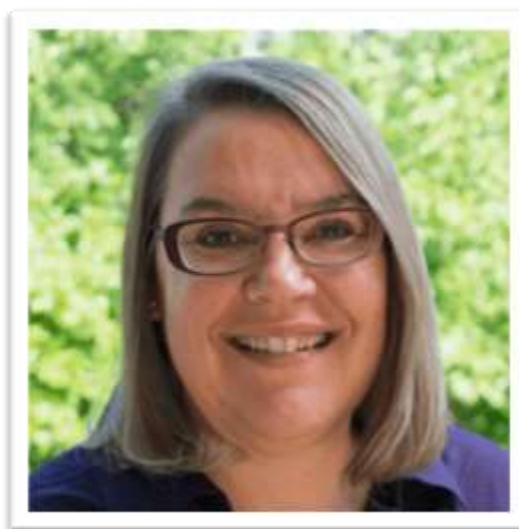

July Program and Workshop

Once again, we have a full slate of activities planned for the July meeting (7/10). Our 50th Anniversary celebration is continuing all year. When you arrive at the meeting, make sure to visit the 50th Anniversary table to select another gift! Also, if you did not receive your 50th Anniversary pin at the June meeting, you can pick one up.

We are planning another ticket blitz for the 50th Anniversary raffle quilt, Stellar and Gold, so bring your $20 bills and some address labels to make filling out the tickets a breeze. If you purchase a booklet of 10 tickets for $20, you will receive a handmade star. You can also purchase tickets for the Nifty Fifty Fat Quarter Raffle (NFFQR), and if you haven't gotten your LQG polo shirt yet, there's still time!

If you checked out a library book at the May meeting, be sure to return it in July. And, don't forget that you can request a book from the list of library books available on the LQG website.

After all of the excitement, we will be ready to settle in for our speaker, Jenifer Dick. Jenifer has edited numerous quilt books, written five herself, and had work published in many other books and magazines. Her quilts have been shown in major shows including the AQS Show in Paducah, Quilt Con, and the Kansas City Regional Quilt Festival. Jenifer and her partner, Trisch Price, joined forces in 2015 to create Everyday Stitches, a pattern company specializing in quality patterns that reflect their own style and personality.

On Tuesday, July 11, Jenifer will teach a workshop based on an Everyday Stitches pattern, Jacks the Jackrabbit. This class features invisible machine applique using the freezer paper and starch method. Spots are still available!

Lincoln Quilters Guild Meeting
Monday, June 12, 2023– 6:00 p.m.
Minutes/Summary

President Nancy Anderson welcomed members and guests to the 50th Anniversary Salad Supper and Member Appreciation night at the International Quilt Museum. Approximately 120 people attended the event. The salad supper was arranged by the 50th Anniversary Committee with food from HyVee.

Upon arrival, members received a ballot for voting on the 50th anniversary challenge quilts and a raffle ticket for door prizes. At each place setting was a lapel pin commemorating the guild's 50th anniversary.

During the buffet dinner, excerpts from the Corny Bunch video (which was made in 1995) were shown. The video featured early members of the LQG including Mary Ghormley and Virginia Welty.

Challenge quilt winners were announced, and prizes were awarded as follows:

1st Place: LeAnn Frobohm

2nd Place: Sheila Green

3rd Place: Marti Franti and Tammy Hensley (tie)

Names were drawn for door prizes, and winners received their choice of a jelly roll or a book. The following people won door prizes:

Kara Sheil
Deb Walter
Monica Reid
Gloria Bell
Marilyn Rembolt
Pam Rodgers

Millie Corkill
Jane Austin
Marty Link
Marcia Mullinix
Betty Tenhulzen

Finally, drawings were held for winners of the table centerpieces.

Many members brought quilts for show and tell. Members showed quilts that were especially meaningful to them. Members also showed and talked about their challenge quilts.

When the meeting was adjourned, attendees were invited to continue looking in the museum galleries while cleanup was under way.
